ARCTIC CHALLENGE

Kinsale resident joins other adveturers to go off grid in the Arctic to raise charity funds.

Sisters Lisa McInern and Fiona Cunningham are now in training for their challenge.

Hello, my name is Fiona Cunningham and I've lived in Kinsale with my family for 18 years. On March 4th my sister and I will head to Arctic Finland, about 150km above the arctic circle, with a small group of fellow travellers. We are going to stay in an old woodcutters hut without electricity or running water for 5 nights. During this time we will learn the skills needed to camp out in the arctic. On the last night we will cross country ski for 5 hours dragging our tents and food by sled (35 kg), we will then camp out in the wilderness, lighting fires, preparing meals in the harsh environment. The temp is approximately -20 degrees C. We will return the same way the next day.

We are raising money for DEBRA in memory of our cousin James Varley who suffered from EB. DEBRA supports those afflicted with Epidermolysis Bullosa (EB) and carries out research into cures and treatments. James passed away last year. When James passed away it made me reflect deeply on how hard his life must have been and how difficult it must have been when he was born in 1976, as little was known of this disease at that time. EB was very extensive and visible in James case as his face, hands and arms were affected.

What is Epidermolysis Bullosa (EB)?

EB is a very painful skin disorder, the skin is extremely fragile therefore blistering very easily. The blisters then lead to open wounds, extreme scarring and in later life the possibility of severe forms of skin cancer. EB is a rare disease and it is difficult for those afflicted to get support.
