"My Jobcoach helped me look at all of my options and we found a job that really suited me"

I am delighted to be the new Employability job coach in Kinsale as I can see the massive benefits the service provides to both individuals and the business community alike.

It is a very common experience that self-confidence declines rapidly when out of work for an extended period of time. It is likely that many people will be experiencing this after going through this last year, self-doubt at an all-time high, self-confidence at an all-time low. The Employability service supports all types of individuals, from those recovering from illness or injury, living with an underlying condition, disability, or mental health challenge. It is a free and confidential service.

Please get in touch to find out more.
